Baby Supply Exchange

Do you have baby clothes and equipment you no longer use?

Do you need help getting all you need for your baby?

The Baby Supply Exchange is run from St. Stephen's Church in the heart of Port Washington. It is a free service open to all, providing baby and pre-school items, equipment, clothing and more for those in need in the community.

We gladly receive any clean and serviceable items. These will be distributed to those in need and can be returned after use to benefit others. The exchange is maintained by the generous donations of the community and we work together with other churches and organizations to ensure we are meeting the local need.
